MOB RULE!

Civil Liberties Sacrificed to Appease Gangs of Asian & Labour Party Thugs

NF MEETING GOES AHEAD

BASEBALL BAT-WIELDING ASIANS and Labour Party thugs brought mob rule to the streets of Rochdale on Saturday 22nd April as, with the help of Greater Manchester Police they tried to prevent National Front members and supporters, many from Rochdale and neighbouring Lancashire towns, from celebrating St George's Day.

The unholy alliance of a police force and a mob of 500 chanting, gesticulating and threatening thugs stunned local shoppers and shopkeepers. Police egged on by the banner waving Asians and their Labour Party cohorts raided every public house in the town dragging out any NF members or supporters and herding them into vans and escorting them out of town. A landlord was arrested for serving drinks to NF members after Police had instructed him not to and his wife was knocked unconscious as he was arrested. Even groups of white youngsters who were nothing to do with the National Front were told to split up and leave the town.

The events took place on a day that should have seen a National Front St. George's Day parade through Rochdale. The Union Jack flags and drums would have made a welcome change for the people of Lancashire after months of continuous Asian marches complaining about the Salman Rushdie book.

The NF had written to Greater Manchester Police informing them of the intention to march on the theme 'No Asian Wars on Britain's Shores'. Chief Constable Anderton applied to the Home Office for a ban which was granted. Not deterred the NF informed the police they would hold a rally on the town hall steps to complain at this gagging of a British political party.

ABUSE

On the day the police allowed 500 opponents of the National Front to gather on the town hall steps and refused to allow the National Front even to hold a meeting in a hotel in Castleton two miles outside Rochdale. The catalogue of abuse of civil liberties by the police makes sinister reading.

⋆ A coach from Birmingham was prevented from entering Rochdale and escorted down the M62 away from the town. Police threatened the coach driver with possible loss of licence unless he obeyed. Not to be put off however the NF members from Birmingham got off the coach and hailed six black cabs to take them back into Rochdale to attend the meeting.

⋆ NF members from Leeds arriving by train were forced to return by Police at Rochdale BR station as gangs of Reds and Asians crowded on the platform challenging any group of White youngsters that were alighting from trains.

⋆ Minibuses from Croydon, Newham and Workington were stopped at the entrance to Rochdale and escorted out of the town. The Workington minibus twice returned only to be escorted out again.

⋆ More than 100 local NF supporters hoping to attend the NF rally on the town hall steps were in pubs and held there under house arrest by the police. Other smaller groups in pubs near the station were physically removed by the police and driven out of the town.

And while all this was going on . .

● Police vans blocked the way into Rochdale

● Asians and Labour Party thugs were roaming the town attacking groups of white youngsters and in some cases the police when they tried to intervene.

● Asians assembled around the Rochdale Centotaph spat and urinated on the memorial, with Police just standing around and watching.

● The Dowager Lady Jane Birdwood addresses those NF members who managed to get to the meeting.

● Asians were seen unloading baseball bats from a car and handing them out to the crowd under the gaze of the police.

Although more than 300 National Front members were denied access to Rochdale, 60 NF members managed to slip through the police dragnet and hold a meeting at the Norton Grange Hotel in Castleton. There they were addressed by the Dowager Lady Jane Birdwood who said that she had never seen such abuse of Police power as had taken place that day.

Later in the day, despite a public order ban on marches nearly 100 patriots marched through Castleton behind Union Jack flags and a banner proclaiming 'No Asian Wars on Britain's Shores'.

A spokesman for the marchers asked if he was aware he was breaking the law said: "There was no law in Rochdale today. It was mob rule. Gangs of Asians, gangs of Reds and gangs of Police just abusing anyone who was young and white."

Many police officers too were unhappy with the actions of senior officers. One constable told NF Deputy Chairman, Martin Wingfield, who was detained along with 20 other NF members after the meeting "It's madness. Here we are holding you who have done nothing wrong yet in the town centre there's mayhem and we have been told to do nothing".

Opposition efforts to gag the National Front in Rochdale have already backfired. NF contact phonelines in London and Birmingham have been buzzing with inquiries from the Greater Manchester area as Britons, appalled by the behaviour of the rampaging Asian mob, want to join the National Front. Radio and television were dominated by coverage of the event and many newspapers took the line that freedom of speech was denied to a lawful political party because of the action of a marauding mob of immigrants and agitators.

FIGHT BACK FOR BRITAIN! - JOIN THE NATIONAL FRONT Details on Back Page

Britain's Slaughterhouse Agony

THIRTEEN MILLION animals are dying in agony every year in Britain's slaughterhouses.

And they are not being slaughtered to feed British people.

Halal Meat Packers and Halal Meat Company are buying up slaughterhouses all over Britain to ritually kill animals for the consumption by Asians throughout Europe.

A real Holocaust is taking place in Britain in abattoirs up and down the country every day of the week yet there is hardly a word from the Animal Rights organisations. Why is this? Could it be that more than half of the so-called animal welfare organisation are run and financed by people who also partake in eating ritually slaughtered meat?

More Money for Ethnic Groups

THE LONDON Borough's grants scheme has decided to award £540,000 to projects providing support, information, advice and cultural activities to ethnic communities in London.

The West Indian Standing Confernece was one of the many projects catering for Black people who had their grants renewed.

Hundreds of projects will be considered by the committee over the coming months with an estimated £2.5 million going to ethnic minority projects.

Britons Under Siege

WHILE London's immigrants get showered with money Manchester's beleaguered White families are a under siege of rubbish and debris.

The council had promised to clear up the mess from the demolition of the notorious Fort Beswick high-rise estate so that tenants of the nearby terraced homes could get on with their lives.

But the council has done nothing. The residents of Lucas Walk are marooned in a sea of rubbish, rubble and mud. Bins have not been emptied for more than two months and the whole area is becoming a health risk.

Manchester Council was quick enough to cough up money for homosexual projects and to fund illegal immigrant Viraj Mendis, but ignore the real people of Manchester.

★ The National Front says "Put the welfare and quality of life of British people first before the needs of immigrants and homosexuals"

Sikh's Target Britain

SCOTLAND YARD have warned of a renewed campaign of violence by Sikhs living in Britain.

The campaign has been launched by the Panthic Committee, a group of Sikhs who demand that Khalistan become a Sikh state. In Britain in the last three years more than ten prominent Sikhs have been murdered in inter-Sikh violence.

Naval Dockyards Face The Axe

THE GOVERNMENT'S relentless destruction of Britain's dockyards appears to have no end. Not satisfied with destroying the shipbuilding industry of Sunderland, the Government is now turning to the Naval repair yards at Portmouth.

The Navy's dockyard at Portsmouth houses the Fleet Maintenance and Repair Organisation. It's the Navy's own repair yard and should have been busy preparing to receive the destroyer Southampton that was damaged in a collision in the Gulf last August. But now that job has been put out to tender, going to the cheapest bidder who ever that may be.

The move signals the Government's intention to sell off the Fleet Maintenance and Repair Organisation and put the final nail in the coffin of Portsmouth's fine naval traditions.

The writing was probably on the wall when it was decided to contract a Dutch firm to transport the Type 42 destroyer back from the Gulf at a cost of £15 million, and now the £100 million worth of repairs is up for grabs.

The National Front believes that Britain's Navy should be built, maintained and repaired in Britain's dockyard by workers employed by the Government. When the defence of Britain is at stake no stone should be left unturned in ensuring that the job is done to precise requirements. Penny-pinching by hawking around such jobs of national importance to the cheapest tender is an insult to our country with its great naval tradition.

Spain is Stealing our Fish!

BRITISH FISHERMEN lost more than £17 million in 1987 because Spanish fishermen stole our fish.

The Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food revealed that more than 150 Spanish vessels have been exploiting Britain's registration laws by establishing companies in the UK, flying the British flag on their boats but landing their catches in Spain and deducting it from the British quota.

This is just another example of Common Market madness. British Fishermen losing their livelihoods because the EEC insists that what used to belong to Britain must now be shared amongst the whole community.

Would You Give Him A Job?

An industrial tribunal ruling has made it illegal to refuse to give Dawkins a job on account of his appearance. The ruling gives Rastafarians 'ethnic group status' under the Race Relations Act meaning that, like Sikhs, they can continue to follow their religion even if it means breaking British law.

1983 FRONT PLEDGED ALL-SEAT STADIUMS

THE HEART of the National Front, like that of all British people, goes out to the people of Liverpool in the wake of the apalling Hillsborough football tragedy. Beyond sharing their grief, the main priority now, of course, is to see that it never happens again

HUMAN AVALANCHE

Whoever was ultimately to blame for the surge into the Leppings Lane stand, everybody agrees that it would never have crushed 95 lives out of existence if everybody in the stand had been properly seated. It was because they were all standing, packed like cattle into pens, that the Liverpool supporters were pushed forward and crushed against the fencing. In an all-seat stand, such a 'human avalanche' could never have happened - especially as once all the seats were taken it would have been crystal clear that the stand was full and there was no room for anyone else. Now the demand goes up from every quarter for all-seat football grounds.

BEFORE

But it is easy to be wise after the event. It was six years before the event, however, that the National Front called for all-seat football grounds. In our manifesto Let Britain Live!, for the June 1983 General Election, in paragraph 4.38 on page 20, the NF stated, as after Hillsborough everyone now agrees, that "Britain's sport stadiums are nineteenth century slums". And we called for funding to be made available "to football and other sports clubs to provide covered, all-seat facilities". If they had listened to the NF, and done this, almost a hundred, mostly young, Britons would be alive today.

Imports Hit Shoe Group

LAMBETH HOWARTH, the footwear manufacturer will have to lay off workers after recording a £615,000 loss last year.

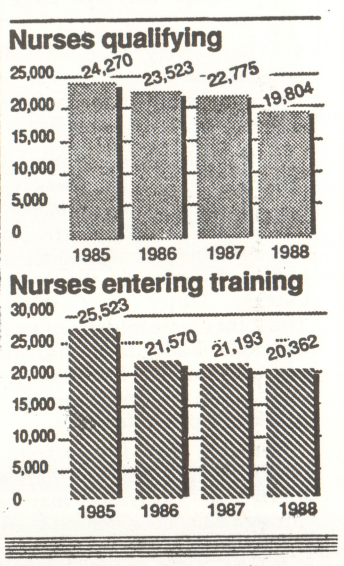
Imports of shoes from Eastern Europe are responsible for job losses.

Nurse Shortage to Pose Problems

BRITAIN'S HEALTH Service is facing a drastic shortage of qualified nurses that will, if the trend continues, pose major problems for hospitals over the next ten years.

Figures issued by the Department of Health indicate a fall in the number of nurses employed in the 14 heath regions.

The number of newly-qualified nurses joining the professional register fell by 13% last year while the numbers entering nurse training fell by 4%.



Among the staff nurses registering, mental care specialists were down by 24.5% on 1987, mental handicap specialists were down by 27% and sick children's nurses by 20.8%.

Among qualified nurses entering further training, those opting for general intensive care were down by 21.5% and for special care of new born babies by 26%.

The reasons for the trend is two-fold. Nurses pay is an insult. Those who train and work to look after the sick, who often hold the balance of life in their hands deserve to be rewarded for their skills. But it's not only the pay that is stopping young people enrolling in a profession that once was held in such high esteem. The dismantling of the NHS and its replacement by private medicine financed by the insurance con-trick has taken the prestige way from the nursing profession.

The National Front believes that it is the right of every Briton to receive a totally free health service. A health service staffed by doctors and nurses who are rewarded for their service and dedication with a salary that befits their contribution to society.

NATIONAL COVERAGE

COVENTRY NATIONAL Front's resolution concerning the wearing of ties and the elimination of alcahol at meetings was apparently so newsworthy that it was covered in the Daily Telegraph and the Guardian.

TRAINING

Those present, as part of their training, produced local leaflets promoting National Front polices suitable for their specific area.

Education & Training Officer, Tom Acton, told The FLAG that while he thought the seminar useful, there were many areas where presentation and organisation could be improved and he hoped to iron out these points in time for the next seminar in Bristol

IRA DEMO STIFLED

MEMBERS OF the pro-IRA 'Troops Out Movement' had a nasty shock when they erected their banner outside an Army Recruitment Office in The Strand, central London on 15th April. For hardly had their banner gone up than they found themselves flattened against the shop front by a solid row of National Front members who erected their own, much larger, banner directly in front of the Troops Out picket.

The thirty or so NF members then proceeded to ensure that the only leaflets that were handed out were National Front leaflets and that passers-by could only see NF members, NF banners and Union Jack flags. Two policemen watched the whole proceeding with amusement. During the morning other IRA supporters turned up, but they too were forced to slide in behind the NF demonstration and seemed hardly able to talk to each other.

The tearful organiser of the picket did manage to whine to The Irish Post;

"The only way to defeat this sort of provocation from the National Front is by strong, united mobilisation for demonstrations and pickets. We call on all those who oppose fascism and support British withdrawal of troops and the right of Irish people to self-determination to join our regular pickets and ensure that the National Front cannot stop our protests by this sort of intimidation".

And that's quite a mouthful when you're upset!

NO VIOLENCE

The NF were well happy with the morning's work. There was no violence and no verbal abuse, yet a Troops Out picket had been entirely stifled by the National Front.

MONEY RAISED FOR HEMEL HEMPSTEAD ELECTION CAMPAIGN

OVER £71.00's worth of literature was sold at a fund-raising meeting of the Bedford Branch of the National Front held in Leighton Buzzard on Tuesday April 11th.

The meeting was chaired by John McSweeney who outlined a leafletting and paper sales campaign in Bedfordshire for the next month.

John McAuley, the Home Counties North Regional organiser, gave details of the NF campaign in a forthcoming council election in Hemel Hempstead for which a collection was taken which raised £31.66.

The meeting was rounded off with a speech from Steve Brady, Chairman of the NF Policy Department who gave an amusing and thought-provoking insight into the Mad Mullahs of Iran.

KENT REPORT

by Geoff Burnett

GOOD NEWS from Kent this month with SID CAMPBELL one of Kent's leading activists making a good recovery from a recent illness. Anyone who knows Sid appreciates what a contribution he has made to the National Front in recent years especially in the Medway area. It is also good news that some of Medway's younger activists are helping to run the Medway Branch.

Last month was probably one of Kent's best for new memberships and enquiries. Margate where regular leafletting and papersales take place has seen numerous membership enquiries as has Dartford and Gravesend where we are hoping to form a committee in the not too distant future.

As Predicted

THE CHANNEL Tunnel, as predicted in an article in The FLAG six months ago, is putting the final nails into the Garden of England's coffin.

People of all political persuasions have just woken up to the fact of what our Tory friends have been doing to our county. Although there has been several large demonstrations in the county against the tunnel it's all a bit late. More notice should have been taken of what the National Front was saying 12 months ago, a theme the popular press are now only just taking up.

After returning from a site meeting where local people are opposing developers who are trying to turn an old Manor House in Sevenoaks into a block of flats, I felt really down; not for myself but for the future that faces the children of Kent. What kind of country are they going to grow up in? What is going to be left of the Garden of England?

The National Front must continue the fight against the Channel Tunnel and fight this blight on our island with all our strength.

System Runs Aground in Docks Dispute

Workers Control of Britain's Dockyards is the only answer to the present dispute argues STEVE BRADY.

THE INDUSTRIAL dispute over the abolition of the National Dock Labour Scheme, with its threat of a national docks strike, is yet another act in the squalid 'bosses vs workers' tragedy which, over the last 100 years, has brought Britain to its knees as an industrial power. It is a tragedy which, for all its causes lost and won, strikes, confrontations, lock outs and suffering inflicted on an uninvolved general public, is all so unnecessary.

DIVISIVE SYSTEM

For the root of the conflict which now erupts in the docks as it did in the mines, power stations, factories, even of late, tube trains, lies in the unfair and stupendously inefficient and nationally divisive system of industrial ownership typical of Western Capitalist societies such as our own. A rotten system to which only the National Front offers an alternative other than the discredited State slavery ofthe Communist .Oriental despotism, now falling to pieces in Eastern Europe and China.

What is wrong, basically, is that the people, such as dockers, who actually do the productive work in our society, do not enjoy the profits their labour has earned nor do they have any say in the running of the enterprise, be it dock, factory or whatever, in which they work.

They and their labour are treated just as another raw material, a commodity to be bought and sold, a commodity they naturally try to sell at the highest possible price and under the best possible conditions for themselves, however absurd such conditions - as some of the National Dock Labour Scheme unarguably is - may appear to anyone looking at it from the point of view of efficient running of the enterprise as a whole.

In fact, no-one involved does look at it from the point of view of the interests of the business as a whole. Instead, it is divided into, and is a potential battleground between, two hostile factions, 'management' and 'workers'. Is it any wonder that any conflict and bizarre restrictive practices like those in our older docks have been the curse of British industry for over 100 years?

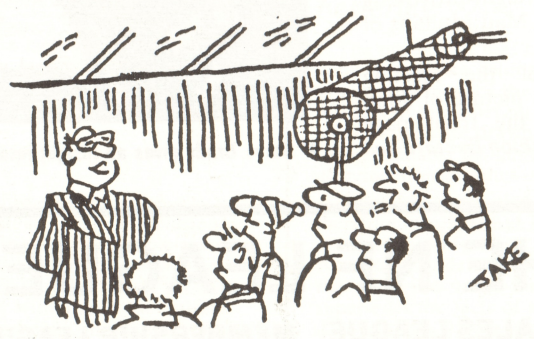
The answer is to take away at a stroke this basic cause of the conflict by placing control and ownership of the economy directly in the hands of those who actually do the work that runs it, the workers by hand and brain. Such control must be direct, through workers' co-operatives and small family owned-businesses.

This is totally a different kettle of fish from the con-trick carried out by the Communists and enshrined in Labour's Clause 4 whereby the "means of production, distribution and exchange" the "commanding heights of the economy" are taken over "on behalf of the workers", which means in reality a tiny clique of State Bureaucrats. As the miners found out, such nationalisation gives them no more control over where they work or enjoyment of the produce of their labours than under Capitalism.

In a workers co-operative the workers do control and enjoy the produce of the enterprise in which they work. They elect the Board, which appoints the managers as it appoints fitters, steveadores, computer programmers or other workers.

White collar and blue collar workers are all equally worker shareholders. Instead of the two sides of industry now locked in battle over Britain's docks, there is only one side - the workers. The workers are the bosses, and there is no room for conflict nor need for restrictive practices such as the Docks labour scheme wrested from one side in the battle to defend its interests against the other, a battle in which the enterprise concerned and ultimately the nation suffers. Instead the efficiency and profitability of the enterprise is the first concern of all its workforce because they all benefit, as does the prosperity of the country.

Thus the NF believes that instead of a doomed battle to uphold antiquated restrictive practices which damage our docks' viability, the dockers like all other workers by hand and brain in British industry, should fight for workers' control of their workplace.



"Ah so, you are to be replaced by robots made in Japan but assembled in Britain. Thank you, you may go"

Softening us up for the Hong Kong Influx

MEDIA AND politicians are begining the big 'softening-up' of public opinion to allow three and a half million Chinese people with British passports into Britain.

Sob stories are appearing regularly now about the 'plight' of the residents of Hong Kong who don't want to stay when China takes over 1997.

Labour MP Peter Shore claimed Britain has betrayed Hong Kong and Dame Lydia Dunn, policy adviser to the Governor of Hong Kong, turned on the waterworks as she complained that it was 'morally indefensible' for Britain to refuse 3.5 million Hong Kong people the right of residence in Britain.

RATEPAYERS PAY

ERIC SERAPHIN, Race Equality Adviser to Lewisham Council, has been given 14 weeks' paid leave at ratepayers' expense to visit St Lucia in the Caribbean.

There he will research the leisure problems of young Blacks.

When he returns he will have another 8 weeks paid leave to write his report!

The Sick Murderer in Charge of Israel

THE ATROCITIES committed by Israeli soldiers against Palestinians in the West Bank are no longer news. The killing of men, women and children barely gets a mention now because their deaths are being accepted as 'the norm' by the rest of the world.

And this is hardly surprising. What else should anyone expect. Israel is being led by a man who has butchered and murdered people all of his life. In his earlier years he was killing British soldiers and civilians, now it's Palestinians.

Yitzhak Shamir is the Prime Minister of Israel. Shamir isn't his real name, that is Yzernitzky. He was born in Ruzinov, Poland and at the age of 20 was already a fanatical follower of Zeev Jabotinski a ruthless terrorist who believe that advancement could only be made with the help of the bomb and the bullet.

■ Shamir in 1946: The cruel eyes of a mass murderer.

In 1935 he emigrated to Israel, changed his name, and joined the Jewish terrorist group, Irgun Zvai Leumi, who were responsible for numerous atrocities against British soldiers including the butchering of Sergeants Pace and Martin.

But Shamir found Irgun too moderate and in 1940 joined the Stern Gang. As their operations chief he was responsible for the murder of British Minister, Lord Moyne, and of UN Envoy Count Folke Bernadotte.

When the state of Israel came into being, Shamir continued his life of killing working for the Israeli Secret Service Mossad which eliminates opponents of Israeli across the world. It wasn't until he was 58 that he 'gave up' terrorist activity and took up politics.

This is the man that is leading Israel today. He is still 'chief of operations' and still following the teachings from his youth. Advancement can only be made by the bomb and the bullet.

ENOCH ANSWERS THE FRONT

ENOCH POWELL has answered the call by The FLAG that he should work with the National Front to campaign for the interests of the British people. He says that he still hopes that MPs in the House of Commons will see the light over the consequences of Coloured Immigration.

In a letter he writes;

"The periodical (The FLAG) had in fact already come to my attention and I note what you say. However, the place where a change of perception and intention has eventually to be brought about is in the political parties represented in the House of Commons".

● POWELL: MPs will change

So Enoch believes that the Tories, Labour and Democrats will finally come good and introduce a 'Stop Immigration & Start Repatriation policy'.

The National Front believes that apart from the Ulster Unionists, Westmister is full of careerists, fools and traitors.

Careerists who know that coloured immigration is destroying Britain, yet court the immigrants to gain their votes to keep them in their job.

Fools who are blind to the destruction of the British way of life and still believe that the multiracial nightmare will enrich British culture.

Traitors who have worked to bring about a divided nation that will be unable to resist the move to 'one world' lorded over by a handful of individuals.

Does Enoch Powell really believe that these people will in the end change their ways and start looking after the interests of the British people?

Maggie's Children

It was sold to a group of Indian businessmen for £24,000.

OBITUARY

Ray Redfern

"Ray - we shall never forget you; you are an inspiration to us and the fight goes on with your memory in our hearts"

It is with great regret and deep sorrow that we announce that Ray Redfern, a long-standing Birmingham member passed away on 11th April 1989.

Ray had been a National Front member for over 15 years. He had served his country during World War II in the North Africa campaign and won many medals for gallantry. He stood for the NF in local elections and for two years, up to his serious illness, he had been the Chairman of Birmingham Branch. Many members will remember Ray from last year's annual parade to the Cenotaph where he gave an emotional address at the rally.

The Birmingham Committee had these words for Ray Redfern.

"Ray was a true patriot, a well-respected colleague and friend. Without a doubt he was a courageous man who was a credit to the National Front. His loss is great sadness to us all. We shall miss him badly.

Norman Tomkinson - Treasurer

"After visiting Ray during his very serious illness, I was amazed by his courage and tremendous spirit. He will be sadly missed."

John Hill - Organiser.

"Ray gave years of service to the NF. His spirits were never dampened through the party's difficult times. His memory is an inspiration to all Nationalists"

Andy Skuse - YNF

"As the chairman of the branch who took over because of Ray's ill health, I am deeply saddened by his passing. He had been an excellent chairman who earned respect from the membership. He will be sorely missed."

Sam Fairbairn - Chairman

Our deepest sympathy goes to Ray's wife Maisie who nursed him through his long illness. Ray must of been so proud of her, just as we are so proud of him.

Tories Prepare to Wash their Hands of Ulster

ON FRIDAY 17th March at a meeting in Scarborough, Sir Peter Lane, the Chairman of the National Union of Conservative Associations headed off demands to set up Conservative Associations in Northern Ireland. Perhaps at first sight, we might think that the people of Ulster are lucky not to have the attentions of local Tories crawling after their votes.

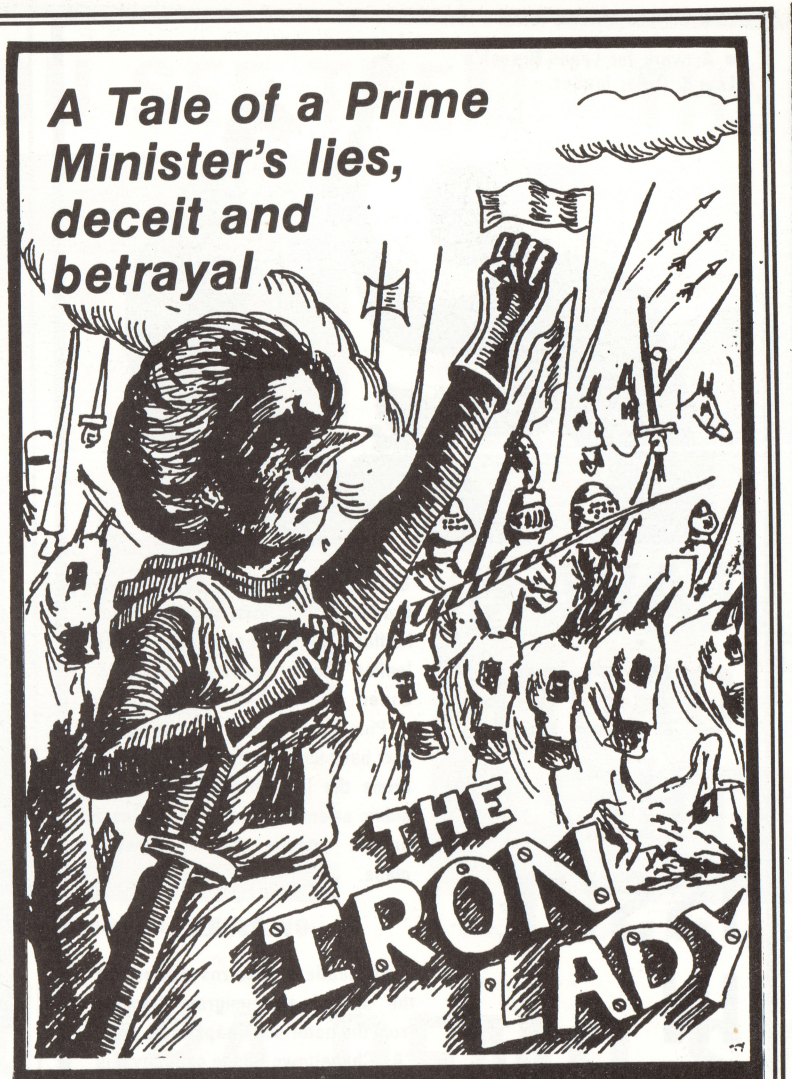
However the truth is less pleasant.

There are two real reasons why senior Tories do not want branches in Northern Ireland:-

■ Firstly they fear that Loyalists, once inside the Conservative Party, would use every opportunity to attack the Anglo-Irish Agreement including the party's Annual Conference. The Tories are scared stiff of internal debate on the Question of Ulster because then their incompetence and treachery would be open to view. Loyalists inside the Conservative Party would also gain a platform to express their views to Conservative branches on the mainland and would thus have the opportunity to attack the Government's record amongst its own members.

■ The second and more important reason why Conservative leaders do not want branches in Ulster is because they know that the logical end result of the Anglo-Irish Agreement is the handing of Ulster over to the Dublin Government - Conservative branches in the province would intensify the opposition to such a scuttling action and would cause immense embarassment to a future Conservative Government.

If the Conservative Party is truly committed to the integrity of the United Kingdom then there is absolutely no reason why they should not set up branches in Ulster. Their refusal shows them up exactly for what they are:- A BUNCH OF TREACHEROUS LIARS!



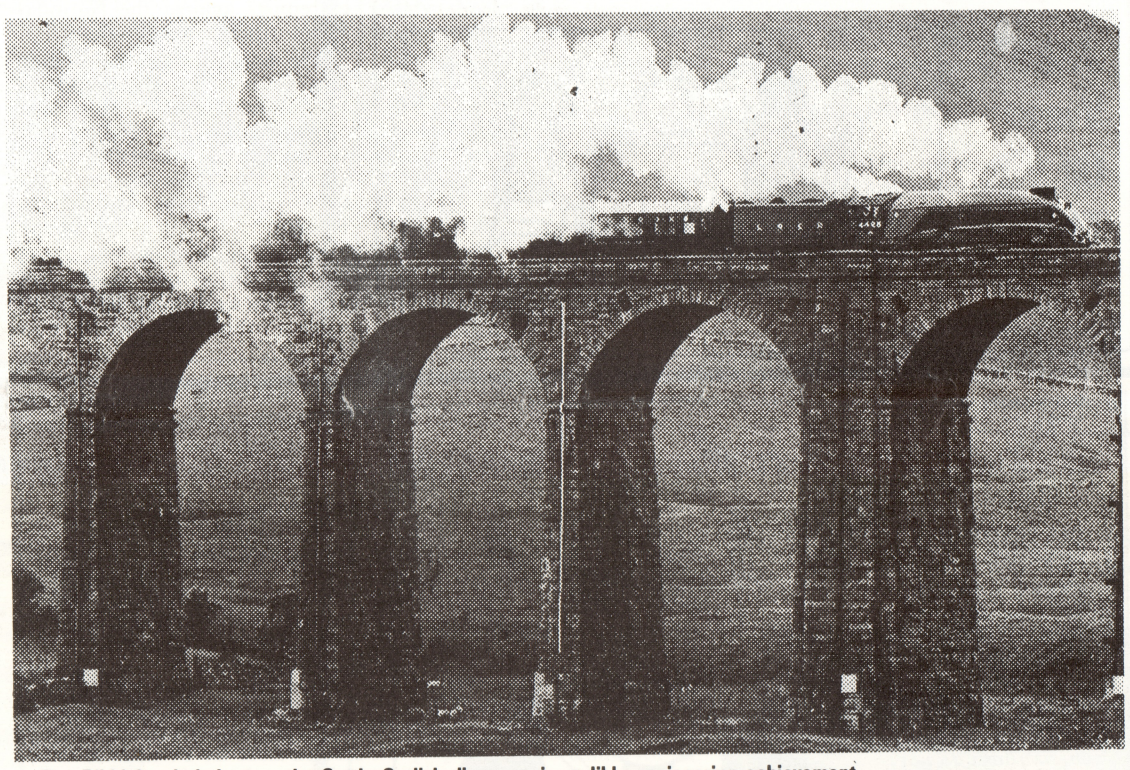
SUCCESS FOR THE CAMPAIGN TO SAVE SETTLE LINE

THE SETTLE - Carlisle line is to remain open after the success of a campaign against closure lasting six years.

Cost-cutting by British Rail in their search of profits had looked like meaning the end of Britain's most dramatically engineered and most scenic railway line through the Yorkshire Dales and Eden Valley. But the vociferous campaign mounted by local people who needed the service for transport and railway enthusiasts who wanted to preserve part of Britain's railway heritage, in the end, won the day.

And British Rail might not be too far away from that elusive profit on the line either!. All the publicity of the anti-closure campaign has led to a rise in the number of passengers carried from 300,000 in 1987/88 to 450,000 last year. Until 1986 trains stopped only at Appleby, on the run from Settle to Carlisle, but in July that year a further eight stations were opened. The following year extra trains were introduced and now there are five each way daily, with extra weekend specials.

The preservation and maintenance of such an engineering achievement is good news for Britain as a whole and a life saver for the local communities.



■ The Ribblehead viaduct on the Settle-Carlisle line - an incredible engineering achievement.

Front Proved Right Over 'Refugee' Fraud

■ FAMILY SNAPS: All happy in Hanoi. 'Refugees' reunited with their families in the country they allegedly had to flee from.

THE FARCE of the refugee status given to Vietnam's Boat People has been exposed for all to see in recent years.

The Boat People were alleged to have fled Vietnam because they faced certain death if they stayed. Britain opened her doors to these 'refugees' and now they have set up communities in Britain.

It now transpires however that these people who fleed Vietnam in face of death are now happily returning to visit relatives and stay for holidays lasting for up to three months, freely spending the money they have made or been given here in Britain.

The National Front campaigned against the Boat People coming to Britain because we said they weren't refugees. Nine years after that campaign the National Front once again has been proved right.

FRONT ON TELEVISION

WORTHING NATIONAL Front secretary Caralyn Taylor was invited by Scottish Television to appear on their programme 'Women' to give the National Front viewpoint on a number of topics concerning women in politics.

The progamme was hosted by Sheena McDonald and included representatives from all political parties giving their view on matters to an audience of 100 women.

Caralyn got the opportunity to put forward National Front thinking on the issues of the day and after the programme was approached by a number of the audience who expressed support for the National Front.

The programme was recorded on Sunday 30th April and Caralyn was flown to Edinburgh by Scottish Televison and put up in the exclusive Charlton Highlands Hotel in Edinburgh after the recording of the programme. On top of all her expenses being paid Caralyn was given a fee for appearing which she has kindly donated to the Euro-Election Fund.

Resistance to the Media Mindbenders

BRITISH SCHOOLCHILDREN WATCH more hours of television than children from any other country in the world, apart from the United States, reports the National Foundation for Educational Research.

Such news is depressing for Nationalists who are pining their hopes of a revival in national and racial pride on the generation now in our schools.

Syringed into their Minds

It's depressing, not because of the length of time they spend watching the box, more than five hours a day for 25% of them, but because of the programmes they watch. It's not necessary to list the programmes because it doesn't matter, they are near enough all the same, - all promoting multi-racialism and ridiculing national pride. It's a poison that British children are having syringed into their minds every day.

It should be expected that the result of 15 years of this brainwashing on an impressionable mind will leave the individual as a Zombie who parrots what has been fed into him - his mate will be Marmite as well as the West Indian that goes with the jar!

The hope of the National Front, in the forseeable future, having a television channel to redress the balance is non-existent. But the advent of Satellite Television will offer the viewer a host of different programmes, making it more difficult for that hidden hand to manipulate what the public sees.

Two days after the National Foundation for Educational Research had published their findings another report revealed that the generation of viewers in the category 25 plus were switching off the box because of the poor quality of programmes. So worried were the four TV companies that they planned a summit to discuss what to do.

Seldom off our Screens

Now these findings are very encouraging. The 1970s and 1980s have been the decades of brainwashing television and films. The hard-done-by coloured immigrant and the holocaust survivor have seldom been off our screens in 20 years, yet the generation that was meant to have been brainwashed by that propaganda is now turning it off.

Could it be that our systems are becoming immune to the doses of multi-racial poison? Could the British people be building up a resistance to the manipulators of our TV screens?

I have faith in the British people. I believe that they will build up that resistance and see through the attempts to manipulate their minds. EastEnders, Sesame Street, Reportage, Blue Peter and Escape from Sobidor can do their damnest. I believe the British people will see them for what they are.

Violence Flares at Blues Parties in Bedford

FAMILIES ARE living in fear in Hurst Grove, Bedford, after a house was taken over by West Indians and turned into a venue for all night parties.

What makes matters worse is that the police are doing nothing about these blues parties where drugs are openly sold and fights take place.

Eileen and John Mealey, who live in Hurst Grove, regularly complain to the police but nothing is done. Mr Mealy said, "We are always calling the police and they do nothing. They turn up and ask for the music to be turned down and that is it. There have been some terrifying incidents with fights in the streets between partygoers and anyone else who gets in the way".

Mrs Mealey said "Since a number of black people moved in they have created trouble and tension in our quiet street. They have parties every week. They are very organised with someone standing at the door charging an entrance fee.

"The council's health and safety department came around and warned them about the filth in the street and garden but they did nothing. We have young children and it's frightening. We have been threatened by these people."

It's scandalous that British families should be forced to live in fear because of West Indian immigrants. The police do nothing because they are frightened of sparking off a riot and no politician will help for fear of losing ethnic votes at future elections.

LAW & ORDER THE ISSUE IN LEEDS

LEEDS NATIONAL Front have produced their own law and order leaflet to distribute along with the NF leaflet 'The Tories are Soft on Law & Order'.

Pinpointing areas around Leeds that have seen an upsurge in violent crime the local branch has drawn public attention to some of the more horrific attacks that have taken place.

OVERSPILL

The leaflet also warns residents of the spread of immigrant families from the notorious Chapeltown area. "As Chapeltown fills to capacity it is obvious that the overspill from this area must go somewhere - it could be your area!".

Bomb Threat over NF's Moslem Wars Campaign

● BIRMINGHAM OFFICE: Business as usual despite the bomb threats.

SPECIAL BRANCH officers have been called in to investigate bomb threats made by Moslem extremists against the National Front office in Birmingham.

The bomb threats were made in a series of telephone calls to West Midlands Regional Organiser, John Hill, after Birmingham Branch had launched their No Moslem Wars on Britain's Shores campaign in the city.

John contacted the Police and the Post Office over the threats and postal workers at the Solihull sorting office have been put on alert to handle with care any parcels for the NF office.

John Hill told the Birmingham Evening Mail, "We have reported this latest bomb threat to the Post Office and the Police. We felt we ought to warn the postal workers who handle our mail as a matter of courtesy. We have had four bomb threats in the last week and are taking them seriously".

Mr Phil Baxter, Solihull district secretary of the Union of Communication Workers said he had heard of no specific problems from his members.

STATELY HOMES OF NIPPON

BRITAIN HAS done it again! Yes folks, in the face of determined foreign competitors, eager to sell their souls for the all-powerful yen, the lordly Nips have once again chosen Britain. Doesn't it just make your chest swell with national pride?

But in our euphoria we mustn't forget the men who are making Britain great again. Our heartfelt thanks must surely go to that great Briton David Bookbinder already, Chairman of Derbyshire County Council, who engineered this mighty coup; surely the smartest piece of business since the Jews sold Christian slaves to the Turks. Why, so overcome with gratitude and admiration are some people for the great man who enticed the Toyota Company to bestow their favours on us that the Liberal candidate who was due to oppose him in the forthcoming elections has withdrawn for fear of being thought disrespectful.

Time-honoured

While the Japs are quite happy to take over our country, they nevertheless expect to be paid for doing it. As you may have read in your newspapers, bribing executives is a time-honoured Japanese custom; something Mr Bookbinder clearly took into account when masterminding his stupendous deal.

Since on this occasion the Government is not offering the Japs a massive bribe (sometimes called a subsidy), Derbyshire Council is itself forking out £25 million to assist the Japs in their aim of undermining the European car industry.

Of course Messrs Bookbinder and co. would not do anything so crude as to offer the bribe in the form of cash in hand. Much of the money is to be spent on converting a council-owned stately home into luxury flats for the Japanese executives who are going to boss the show. They will also be given the exclusive use of an adjoining 18 hole golf course in order that they may unwind from the pressure of teaching the stupid British how to build cars. It is to be hoped that they will not be expected to carry their own golf bags. Presumably the council will provide British serfs to caddy for them.

This marvellous venture, wholeheartedly commended by the mad saleslady Margaret Thatcher, will eventually employ about 3,000 people for which Derbyshire Council will be paying a subsidy of £8,000 per job - the Government will presumably provide the umemployment pay for the 3,000 plus people laid off from what's left of the British car industry.

Golfers

Clearly the Government believes that only the Japanese are capable of solving our unemployment problem. If the Derbyshire deal is to be used as the yardstick, however, there are snags. That deal created 3,000 jobs. If we are to induce the Japs to put Britain back to work, we will need 700 stately homes and an equal number of golf courses. But golfers are terribly selfish people, and I doubt if they can be persuaded to surrender their courses to the Japs for the sake of the nation.

So, I expect that shortly before the next General Election, Madam Thatcher will announce that the next Tory Government will be committed to full employment and that the Ministry of Trade and Industry has been instructed to embark on a crash golf course building programme.

WHO'S KIDDING

JUST RECENTLY a high-powered delegation of American police chiefs have been visiting Japan on the very important mission. And just what was that mission? Why, to discover the reason why Tokyo, with a population of twelve millions, has only the twelfth of the murders of the less populous city of New York and, incidentally, a mere one sixth of the murders committed in London which has only two thirds of Tokyo's population.

They really needn't have wasted all that public money. All they had to do was give me a ring and I'd have told them.

Unfortunately, I don't think the answer is one that they would have wanted to hear. They apparently believe the enormous discrepancy between the murder rates in New York and Tokyo is due to Japanese policing methods. Are they trying to kid us or merely themselves?

Entirely

It must surely involve a colossal effort at self-delusion not to realise that the simple reason for Japan's low crime rate lies in the fact that Japan is a racialist society with an almost entirely homogeneous population; rather like Britain was before coloured immigration. Homogeneity evokes a sense of shared identity and common purpose; an atmosphere in which crime is severely discouraged.

In a multi-racial society like America or Britain, that sense of common identity is destroyed, engendering the feeling of hopelessness and despair in which crime flourishes.

America has not, of course, been homogeneous for a very long time but at least, until about fifty years ago, all power was invested in a single homogeneous group, the Anglos.

Those days are now long gone. So if the American police chiefs really want to emulate Japan's success in the fight against crime, all they have to do is deport the Blacks, the Puerto Ricans, the Mexicans, and a sizeable portion of the Italians and Jews.

Festering

The problem is that most of the votes in America belong to those groups and most of the elected officials in the festering conurbations are drawn from them, probably including the aforementioned police chiefs.

America's crime problem is therefore insoluble but I suppose it must be comforting for Americans to delude themselves that there is a magic formula that supersedes the facts of race. I dare say they'll believe that until the day they're murdered.

AS SEEN ON TV

THE DEATHS of 95 people at the Hillsborough cup tie was an appalling tragedy, there can be no doubt of that. That so many people, mostly very young, should set out to enjoy a game of football on a sunny Saturday afternoon and be destined not to see the end of the day is heartrending.

But, to put the incident into perspective, the death toll was somewhat less than the number killed on Britain's roads every week of every year without occasioning a judicial enquiry or demands for the suspension of road transport.

Vomit-worthy

What is more, I find the response of many of those who were not bereaved just a little disquieting, in fact downright vomit-worthy.

Hardly had the casualties been cleared from the terraces than the oft-seen made-for-TV ritual of laying wreaths on the spot was enacted by sundry exhibitionists and faithfully recorded for TV. People who normally wouldn't give a toss for any other living soul emoted all over the place, specially for TV. The dreaded counselling services descended on Liverpool like a plague of locusts. Professional footballers declared themselves to be so traumatised that they could not bear to kick a football and it is highly probable that no cure can be effected until their wages are stopped. It was suggested that the Royal family were failing in their duty for not volunteering to turn up en masse for a memorial service. There were demands that, for some strange reason, the FA Cup competition should be abandoned when the obvious solution would be for the traumatised Liverpool players to withdraw and give Notts Forest a bye into the final.

Is the Event

Whatever, I ask myself, became of decent British reticence? Just when did the British begin behaving so hysterically?

I guess it all began with TV. TV does not just report an event, TV is the event. Life has become just a happening made for TV, and if it's not on TV, why then, it just hasn't happened.

STAKING THEIR CLAIM

A RED Indian Chief once complained that real Indians were never allowed to take part in Western films. They were always portrayed by Italians or Jews, he alleged - Wopahoes or Schmohawks.

Little did he know that the Schmohawks, at least, may have had every right to pose as Indians since, according to Prof. J. McCulloch of Ohio University, the Jews discovered America a thousand years before Columbus and were assimilated into the Indian tribes.

Hooked Hooters

He bases this remarkable claim on the discovery of a tombstone in an Indian burial mound which, he alleges, bears the Hebrew inscription "Only for the Judaeans".

Well, I suppose anything is possible. After all, some American Indians do have sizeable hooked hooters. They are in the habit of folding their tepees and silently stealing away. The practice of "Indian giving" - giving a present in the expectation of an even better one in return - is still widely practised among Jews. I suppose that the Indian mania for taking scalps might be construed by learned academics as a sort of tonsorial circumcision.

But really, you know, if the Jews had been present in America, is it likely that the Indians would have sold Manhattan Island to the Dutch for five dollars? Surely the Jews would have bought it from the Indians for five dollars and sold it to the Dutch for a million.

Piltdown Man

As for the inscription "Only for the Judaeans"; I suspect that it is an archaeological hoax after the style of the Piltdown man. Since they now own America lock, stock, and barrel, the inscription could be a means of demonstrating to resentful gentiles that the Jews have an hereditary claim to the land. So, watch out Canada!

Or, on the other hand, we might discover the solution to this puzzle if we could only find out what Prof. McCulloch has been smoking lately.

THATCHER GANG ABOVE THE LAW

NOW IT'S official. There is one law for decent patriotic people who tell the truth about the effects of coloured immigration on Britian, and another law for members of Thatcher's gang of traitors in Westminster who are abusive about coloured immigrants.

Martin Wingfield, Deputy Chairman of the National Front was prosecuted for warning voters in a Brighton council election that "Coloured immigration is destroying British culture, tradition and way of life". He was fined £1,500 and then sent to prison for three months for refusing to pay the fine.

Yet Tory MP Terry Dicks, MP for Hayes and Harlington can say "Black people in Britain should be given ladders to return to Africa and climb up trees" in an interview in The Tatler, and that childish abuse is completely ignored by the authorities.

■ THATCHER: Law doesn't apply

Mrs Thatcher defended the MP by saying "Mr Dicks is well known for his forthright views on a number of matters and would be the first to admit that some of his more extreme remarks should not be taken seriously".

So there we have it. Britain is a divided nation. One law for Thatcher and her acolytes and another law for the rest of us.

Help for Asians

ITHAAD, AN Asian group has been given a handout of £500 to help run their centre in Vernon Street, Nelson, Lancs.

However the centre is not yet open! The £500 is on top of £5,250 rent owed that has been waived by Pendle Councillors.

That is on top of the £50,000 given earlier this year for completion of the centre and £20,000 to furnish the centre.

That was on top of the £30,000 they got a year earlier to 'finish the job', and the £78,000 they got for the initial improvements needed to be made to the former furniture factory.

That was on top of the initial £30,000 given by the government to the Asian group to start work on their Community Centre.

Now you tell me that we're not going mad!

Nationalism Means Life

HOW MANY times have you heard Green Party supporters ask out of curiosity if the NF policies on the environment are simply ones to attract popular support.

Well what these Green Party wallers don't realise is that their bids to 'Save the Planet' will all come to nothing unless they approach the problem, as we in the NF do, from a Nationalist point of view.

For example, the forests of Sweden and Norway have for many years been suffering the effects of acid rain blown there by winds which have carried these waste products from the sites of British heavy industries that burn coal. Now Scandinavian countries can moan till they are blue in the face, but until a Nationalist government is established in Britain, they are unlikely to receive any co-operation in solving this problem.

Coming nearer to home, British conservationists and environmentalists cannot hope to preserve Britain's forests and wildlife without a government that is Nationalist in its thinking.

As Nationalists we in the NF alone recognize that in order to preserve our culture we must also preserve the land on which we live. Therefore it is true to say that Nationalism Means Life!

Mrs. S.G. Willis,

"OK . . .OK . . .Apart from environmental damage, rabies, drug smuggling, illegal immigrants, imports and the waste of taxpayers' money, . . . are there any other objections?"

At Any Cost

I went to meeting concerning the Channel Tunnel in my home town of Tunbridge Wells and was totally depressed by the attitude of those people promoting the project.

They just don't care about the arguments raised against the building of it and the chaos that will be brought about by the high speed rail link connecting it to London.

Question after question was raised at the meeting concerning environmental damage, drug smuggling, rabies and illegal immigration, yet those on the top table, with glassy stares in their eyes, told all objectors, 'the tunnel will be built, whatever it costs and whatever changes need to be made'.

Never has it been so patently obvious that this Government doesn't give a damn about what the British people think.

Nothing to do with Ireland

In reply to P. O'Brien's letter concerning Ireland joining the British family of nations, I would like to say I don't want anything to do with Ireland.

The Irish people have nothing in common with us, and over the centuries have been hostile to anything British. They have given succour to the IRA and made the most of every opportunity to hinder any attempt made by Britain to apprehend IRA murderers.

The border between Ulster and Ireland should be totally secure and there should be no access either way. Any self respecting Briton shouldn't want to have anything to do with Ireland or the Irish people.

MUSIC/THEATRE REVIEW

A SOULLESS CITY

By Bob Nash

A NEW MUSICAL currently making waves within the British theatre scene is Metropolis, on show at the Picadilly Theatre.

Written by Joe Brooks and Dusty Hughes, the musical is based very closely on the original script of Fritz Lang's 1927 film.

The storyline concerns a Futuristic great city, Metropolis, which is ruled by its creator, John Freeman and a privileged class of citizens, the Elitists, who live a luxurious existence on the surface levels of the city. The city is kept running by the efforts of masses of workers who are forced to live a deadly subterranean slave existence, enjoying none of the benefits of the great city.

Eventually a rebellion is led by Freeman's son Steven and the worker's leader Maria causing the destruction of the city allowing a fresh start to be made by the surviviors who emerge from the ruins.

Although the story contains no actual political bias, it is interesting to compare the idea of the great souless city Metropolis, with the likes of London or New York, and the idea of a corrupt elite, perhaps the London Stock Exchange or Wall Street holding sway of the mass working population.

One of the most outstanding features of the musical is the large complex revolving scenery set, which coupled with a series of special effects used during the performance really add a sense of realism to the show.

The powerful musical score used in the show varies in style from operatic rock with such songs as 101.11, One More Morning, and The City's on Fire, to such ballads It's Only Love, and He's Distant From Me Now. There's also the decadent disco beat of The Elitist's Song.

Brian Blessed as the Ruler of Metropolis, John Freeman, makes the best use of a limited voice on such songs as the amusing The Machines are Beautiful, Futura and Metropolis, and puts in a good performance as the mad Freeman.

Leading Lady Judy Kuhn is also impressive as the workers' leader, Maria, and the rest of the show's company of actors and dancers work energetically to make an excellent live spectacle. Metropolis is certainly one of the best musicals currently playing in the West End.

STOP PRESS: At the recent Grammy awards, hotly favoured candidate to win the Heavy Rock section, Metallica, were beaten by other FLAG favourites, Jethro Tull.

YARMOUTH REPORT

By Tom Holmes

ON SATURDAY 15th April Great Yarmouth NF held its first paper sale for over TEN years.

We sold 40 copies with our sales team consisting of Andrew Lightfoot, Steve Porter, myself and three others.

Unknown to us we had picked for the day of the sales the weekend when the Soul Merchants had their stay at a local caravan site. This accounted for the large number (for Yarmouth) of West Indians and Africans seen in the town centre.

We were back in the town centre on Saturday 22nd April where four members sold 22 copies. Several people paid extra for their papers and we ended up with more than £3.00 more than the amount of papers sold.

Several new contacts were made and old members seen. All in all a very satisfactory sale, which hopefully will become a regular activity.

****

STOP PRESS: Norwich NF activists were thrown into a state of panic following rumours that there was to be a National Front paper sale in the town. However the equilibrium was restored when Norwich NF branch officials confirmed that the rumour was unfounded and that no papersale or any other activity other than the nightly pub meetings had been organised for May.

NF Branch Provokes Storm!

PANIC HAS hit the West Yorkshire town of Keighley with news that the National Front is to form a local branch.

Zafar Ali, the community relations officer, told the Keighley News, "We have worked hard to eliminate racial harassment in Keighley, and I'm anxious that the NF should not undo our achievements".

Keighley's Tory MP Gary Waller said he hoped that the Front would not attract local support, while local trades council president, Steve Davidson, said that the NF move had serious implications for the future of race relations in the town.

Meanwhile Dianne Swift on behalf of the National Front told the local paper "We have received substantial backing in Keighley with recent town centre sales of our newspaper proving a huge success. We are a democratic patriotic party, committed to working with the electoral system to gain power".

Is Nothing Sacred?

BLACK COUNTRY delicacies are being changed to suit the taste of the new inhabitants of the area.

Curried faggots are now being promoted along with spiced mushy peas and rabbit tecka as traditional dishes.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

"When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest upon each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit enabled them".

● BECHERS BROOK: The death toll at this fence is unacceptable

TIME TO FILL IN BECHER'S BROOK

ONCE AGAIN the Grand National provided a fascinating spectacle of daring, courage, skill and excitment. But once again this annual ritual provided viewers with the grim reality of the danger of this National Hunt racing festival when two horses were killed when they fell at Becher's Brook.

Two years ago The FLAG argued against the banning of the race after an outcry following the death of Dark Ivy at Becher's Brook. We argued that the horses were bred specifically for racing and wouldn't do it if they didn't enjoy it.

We stand by that argument. But while the race itself should not be banned, changes must be made to Becher's Brook to stop it adding to its already unacceptable death toll.

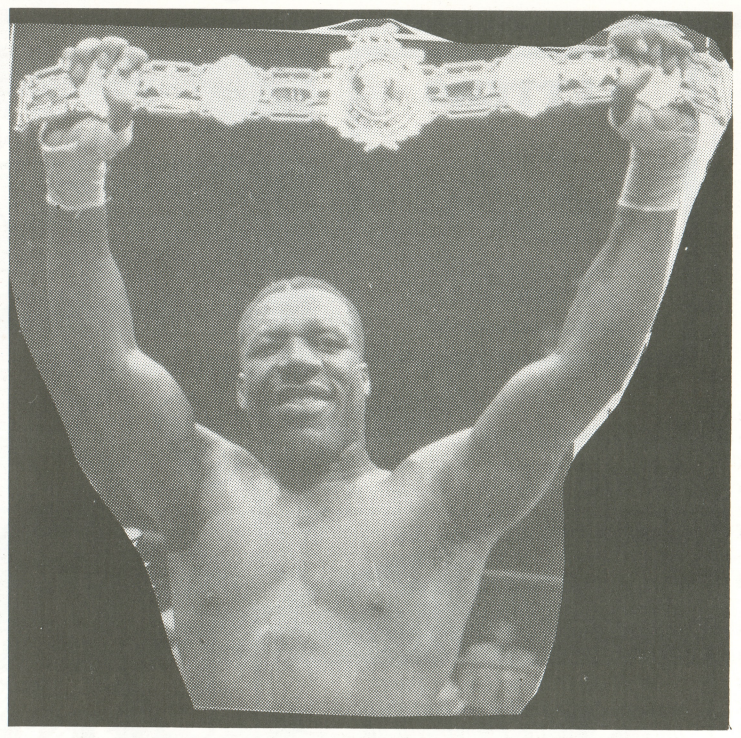
Toby Balding, trainer of this year's winner, Little Polvier, says that the brook/ditch on the landing side should be drained, filled-in and turfed over. It's a sensible suggestion. Becher's Brook is as important as the National itself, it makes the race the ultimate test for steeplechasers. Jumping Becher's can still be like jumping of the edge of the world but when the horse and jockey land they will know that they have not got to worry about jumping a ditch as well.

The Grand National is a great British tradition that must be defended from the Eurocrats who want it banned. Don't let us play into the hands of Brussels by being insensitive to valid calls to make the race safer.

PUNTERS MAKE A PROFIT

IF YOU followed The FLAG's tipster's advice last month you would be in pocket to the tune of £18.00!

We told you to invest £1.50 on every runner sent out by Epsom trainer John Benstead. He had nine runners and two of those won. Hawwam at 10-1 and Hafir at 9-1. He also had a 7-1 second. All the horses ran well, as predicted by our tipster, but he advises caution on future runners.



● MASON: Beat blubber-ladened Terry Armstrong.

WESTGARTH IS READY AND WAITING

WEST INDIAN, Gary Mason, who at present holds the 'British' Heavyweight title appears to be avoiding meeting Great White Hope John Westgarth.

Westgarth knocked out muscle-bound African James Olibogha in the fifth round of their contest in March, a performance that was infinitely better than Mason's farce with blubber-ladened Terry Armstrong.

Mason claims that other boxer's are frightened to fight him. Yet Westgarth issued a challenge immediately after he had disposed of Olibogha and the silence from the Mason camp has been deafening.

FANS IGNORE CAMPAIGN AGAINST FRONT

EXETER LABOUR Party are so concerned about the number of copies of The FLAG that are being sold outside St James Park, the home of Exeter City Football Club, that they have launched a campaign against the paper.

INTIMIDATE

Each home game hundreds of leaflets imploring supporters not to buy The FLAG have been given out. A group of Labour Party thugs regularly try to intimidate members of Exeter National Front as they sell the paper outside the ground.

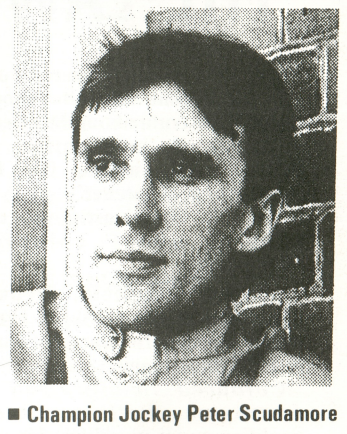
SCREWED UP

But the campaign is a flop. Each home game sees hundreds of screwed up Labour Party leaflets scattered around the turnstiles and Saturday after Saturday sees the Exeter NF members selling out of their supplies of The FLAG.

● Despite the 'Red' threats, NF papersellers out in force at St James Park.

SPORT SHORTS

Well Done Peter



■ Champion Jockey Peter Scudamore

CONGRATULATIONS TO Peter Scudamore on riding more than 200 winners over the sticks in a season.

National Hunt jockeys are the poor relations compared to their wealthy cousins on the Flat, but in terms of strength of character they are in a different league. The courage of Peter Scudamore and the hundreds of other jockeys who risk their lives every day riding horses of all types over hurdles and fences, is something that must never be taken for granted.

Well Done Barrow

CONGRATULATIONS ALSO to Barrow Football Club who, as predicted in last month's FLAG, have gained promotion to the GM Vauxhall Conference League.

Barrow needed to take only a point from their visit to Caernarfon on Bank Holiday Monday but won 1-0 taking the HPS Loans League Championship.

The FLAG will follow Barrow's progress next season to see if they can achieve what has never been done before. Get back in the league after 17 years in the wilderness.

Well Done Scotland

THE SCOTTISH Rugby Union have made the brave decision to allow their players to play in South Africa for that country's centenary celebrations.

Let's hope the England and Wales follow Scotland's example and refuse to be intimidated by the threats from Black African countries that they will boycott the Commonwealth Games in New Zealand.
